

Highlights

Global	A watered down communique, even by G20 standards, will likely leave financial markets bereft of cues to start the week. The G2- statement opined that “the global recovery continues, but it remains uneven and falls short of our ambition for strong, sustainable and balanced growth” and “this year, the G20 group is focused on adopting structural reforms to help economic growth in member countries”. This would involve the use of “all policy tools” available, including monetary, fiscal and structural ones, to foster economic confidence and “preserve and strengthen the recovery”. The economic data calendar today include US’ pending home sales, Chicago PMI, Milwaukee ISM, Eurozone’s Feb CPI, German retail sales, Japan’s housing starts, Thai trade data, and S’pore’s loans growth. To follow will be the global manufacturing PMIs, Fed’s Beige Book and Feb unemployment rate and nonfarm payrolls. Other key events to watch include RBA tomorrow (likely unchanged at 2%), US’ Super Tuesday with 11 Republican nominating contests, Spain’s 2 March vote which socialist leader Sanchez needs an absolute majority (else a simple majority in a second vote on 5 March) to be elected PM. Brexit risks also continue to hover, with former BOE governor King warning that “monetary union has created a conflict between a centralised elite on the one hand, and the forces of democracy at the national level on the other” and “this is extraordinarily dangerous” and the “only way” for uncompetitive countries in southern Europe is to break up the bloc.
US	US’ Jan personal income and spending both strengthened to 0.5% mom, up from 0.3% and 0.1% in Dec, and marking the highest consumer spending in eight months amid improvements in the labour and housing markets. In particular, disposable income rose 0.4% for a second month inflation-adjusted, whilst the savings rate was unchanged at 5.2%. Meanwhile, the 4Q15 GDP growth was revised to 1% annualised, up from a +0.7% estimate previously, as business inventories rose. The core PCE inflation rose 0.3% mom (+1.7% yoy, the strongest pickup since Nov12) and suggesting that inflation while below the Fed’s 2% inflation target was actually picking up and has overshoot the 1.6% Fed’s forecast for 4Q15. This prompted the futures market to hike its June rate hike probability from 24% to 35%. The University of Michigan sentiments was also revised up from 90.7 to 91.7 in Feb, as current and expectations gauges both improved, with the 1-year inflation gauge unchanged at 2.5% but the 5-10 year inflation gauge rose to 2.5%.
SG	Bank loans growth likely contracted for the 4th straight month by 1-2% yoy amid the sluggish macro environment, cautious business sentiments and dampened asset markets.
China	PBoC Governor Zhou Xiaochuan said for the first time that monetary policy is prudent but lean towards easing during his press conference in G20 meeting, however he also called for more support from other policies as monetary policy is not panacea. Nevertheless, China’s Finance Minister Lou Jiwei said monetary policy will continue to play an important role to stimulate global growth while different countries are facing different constraints in terms of fiscal policy. Meanwhile, Zhou also said there is room for household sector to increase leverage amid China’s debt concerns, adding more fuel to already hot property market in tier-1 cities as well as some tier-2 cities.

Major Market

- US: Wall Street ended mixed on Friday, with the Dow -0.34%, S&P500 -0.19% and Nasdaq +0.18%. VIX +3.66% to 19.81. The UST bond market retreated with the 2- and 10-year bond yields at 0.81% and 1.76% respectively as better than expected economic prints, especially for inflation prompted market players to reassess their rate hike probabilities for the rest of the year.
- EZ: Consumer confidence was unchanged at -8.8 in Feb, whilst the German Feb CPI came in softer at +0.4% mom (0% yoy) after falling 0.8% mom (+0.5% yoy) in Jan. France's 4Q15 GDP growth edged up a tad to +0.32% qoq (+1.4% yoy), up from +0.2% qoq (+1.3%yoy), as consumer spending rebounded quickly (+1%) after the 13 Nov terrorist attacks.
- Singapore: The STI recovered 1.77% to close at 2649.38 on Friday. Given the disappointing G20 communique, and weak cues from Wall Street and Kospi this morning, the STI could trade sideways between the 3600 support and the 2680 resistance today. SGS bonds are likely to come under some selling pressure today given stronger than expected US' core PCE data and UST's Friday bond slippage.
- Japan: Industrial production recovered 3.7% mom (-3.8% yoy) in Jan, while retail sales fell 1.1% mom (-0.1% yoy).
- Macau: Unemployment rate held steady at 1.9% in January. However, the delay by casino operators on some projects launched on the Cotai Strip may mean that the labour market might not show significant gain in 1H16. Anyhow, fresh waves of hotel and casino project completions in 2H will gradually underpin employment growth and help absorb redundant employees in the gaming sector. Therefore, we expect the jobless rate to remain stable below 2.0% in 2016.
- Indonesia: Finance Minister Bambang Brodjonegoro said that the government remains optimistic that its proposed tax amnesty law will receive parliamentary approval in 2 months. This comes after the parliament has reportedly postponed its discussion of the bill from March 1st as originally planned.
- Malaysia: Ruling party UMNO has reportedly suspended Muhyiddin Yassin from his role as its deputy president for undermining the organization. Last July, he was removed from his post as the deputy premier in the cabinet.
- Thailand: Deputy Prime Minister Prawit Wongsuwon commented that the National Council for Peace and Order (NCPO) and Prime Minister Prayut Chan-o-cha will not seek to hold power after 2017 polls, according to Bangkok Post.
- Commodities: The rally in the dollar index to the highest in more than three weeks dragged many dollar-denominated commodities, especially precious metals. Gold fell 1.44% to its $1,220/oz handle, while silver staged the largest fall in the year to $14.689/oz. Crude oil has also fallen, but not to the severity seen in precious metals, likely supported by optimism from favourable US-centric economic prints.

Bond Market Updates

- Market Commentary: The SGD swap curve bear steepened last Friday, with the short-end rates trading 2bps-3bps lower while the yield on the long-end rates traded 1bp lower. In the broader dollar space, JACI IG corporates spread widened by 1bp to 253bps, while the yield on the JACI HY corporates decreased by 3bps to 8.28%. The 10y UST yield increased by 5bps to 1.76%.
- Rating Changes: S&P downgraded Noble Group Ltd to “BB-“from “BB+”, reflecting the uncertainty around the details of Noble’s refinancing and the company’s ability to raise capital in difficult market conditions. Outlook is negative. S&P downgraded Sime Darby Berhad to “BBB+” from “A-“ with a negative outlook, due to uncertainty and execution risks surrounding the timing and magnitude of Sime Darby’s deleveraging plan to protect its balance sheet over the next 18 months, on the backdrop of a weaker ringgit and tough operating conditions. S&P placed Standard Chartered PLC and subsidiaries on CreditWatch with negative implications, in light of a reported weak quarter and pretax loss for the year ended Dec 31. With the bank’s weakened performance, ongoing transformation, increasingly challenging macroeconomic environment, S&P sees elevated uncertainty over the bank’s ability to defend its competitive position, manage its risk exposure, and recover its profitability over the next two to three years.
