

Highlights

Global	Another risk-off session is likely across Asia today as the extended slump in Wall Street overnight sent investors feeling to quality and lifting safe-haven assets like US Treasury bonds even ahead of its US$26b 3-year, US$24b 10-year and US$16b 30-year debt sales. The Dow fell nearly 1,600 points intra-day in a record point decline and as major equity indices surrendered year-to-date gains. This surely was not the market welcome that new Fed chair Powell was hoping when he took office yesterday. Elsewhere, ECB's Draghi warned that the EUR surge has created "new headwinds", but "our forward guidance continues to provide a stable framework" and "monetary policy will evolve in a fully data-dependent and time-consistent manner". Apart from the likely continued blood-letting in risk markets, today's focus will be RBA's policy decision (likely static at 1.5%, but watch governor Lowe's speech on Thur and RBA monetary policy statement on Fri). The economic calendar may take a backseat, but includes US' trade balance and JOLTS job openings, German factory orders, Taiwan and Philippines inflation, and Malaysia's foreign reserves data. Fed's Bullard is also speaking.
US	Equities erased all 2018 gains in essentially two sessions. The Dow led declines, plunging 4.61%. The S&amp;P 500 and Nasdaq Composite followed up with declines of 4.10% and 3.78% respectively. A series of strong data prints are starting to force a re-assessment of inflation expectations, and also Fed rate hike expectations going forward. The worry appears to be for accelerated rate hikes to impact corporate earnings through higher borrowing costs. The key, then, is to watch for whether dip-buying, which have kept corrections shallow over the past year, start to kick in and at what level. VIX more than doubled to 37.32, compared to 17.31 previously. Meanwhile, the resultant risk-off sentiments caused investors to flee equities into Treasuries. Benchmark yields were lower by 8-15 bps across the board. The 2y yield fell 12 bps to 2.024%, while the 10y yield declined 14 bps to 2.706%.
SG	The STI fell 1.33% to close at 3482.93 yesterday, and may see further slippage today amid very negative cues from overnight Wall Street sell-off and morning slumps of more than 2% in Kospi. STI support and resistance are at 3450 and 3500 respectively. With the flight to quality, UST bond yields fell by up to 15bps in the belly of the curve, and we expect SGS bonds also rally today amid the de-risking behaviour.
TH	More uptick in consumer confidence in Thailand was seen in January. In fact, consumer confidence rose to its highest since 2015, led by improvements over economic conditions, employment opportunities and future income.
CMD	The faltering of risk appetite continue to plague growth-related commodities, especially crude oil. The sticky liquid observably took a hit from global market jitters, sending WTI to a 2-week low. In fact, both WTI and Brent ended last week lower, amid a stronger greenback, as market-watchers cheered on the better-than-expected wage growth and nonfarm payrolls.

Major Market

- Indonesia: Fourth quarter GDP grew at 5.2%, yoy, beating most analysts' expectations. Growth this quarter was driven by investment and exports. Private consumption growth though remains sluggish at below 5.0%. The lack of pick-up in private consumption growth throughout 2017 has perplexed most economists and it has given rise to the unsolved mystery of a "consumption puzzle" in Indonesia. For the entire 2017, GDP growth was at 5.1%, yoy, which is very much a disappointment. Despite a pick-up in growth through the Asia Pacific, Indonesia did not experience any significant acceleration in its growth rates. Moving forward, it will continue to be challenging to uplift Indonesia's growth rates to President Jokowi's target of 7.0%.

Bond Market Updates

- Market Commentary: The SGD swap curve traded little changed yesterday, with minimal movement in swap rates across most tenors. In the broader dollar space, the Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD IG Bond Index average OAS widened 2 bps to 109bps while the Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD HY Bond Index average OAS widened 15bps to 342bps. 10Y UST yields fell 13.55bps to 2.70%, underpinned by the continuous slide in the equities market which drove safe haven sentiment as well as stronger than expected ISM non-manufacturing data announced yesterday.
- New Issues: Red Cloud Capital Ltd has scheduled for investor meetings from 5-6 Feb for its potential USD bond issuance (guaranteed by Jiangyin Chengxing Industrial Group Co Ltd). The expected issue ratings are 'NR/NR/B'. China Eastern Airlines Corp Ltd has scheduled for investor meetings from 5-7 Feb for its potential yen bond issuance.
- Rating Changes: Moody's has assigned a first-time 'A3' issuer rating to Shandong Hi-speed Group Co Ltd (SDHG). The outlook is stable. The rating action reflects Moody's expectations of a very high likelihood that the company will receive extraordinary support from the Shandong Provincial Government in times of need. It also reflects SDHG'S status as the Shandong Provincial Government's core transportation infrastructure platform, supported by its role as the provincial government's sole platform for railway investment. Moody's has affirmed the 'Baa1' issuer rating of QBE insurance Group Ltd (QBE) and 'A1' insurance financial strength ratings of QBE's main operating subsidiaries. The outlook has been revised to negative from stable. The rating action reflects QBE's weaker earnings performance in the face of higher than expected natural catastrophe losses, combined with goodwill write-downs following downward revisions in the profitability assumption for QBE's North America businesses. The rating affirmation reflect the group's broad product diversification, strong capitalisation, moderate levels of financial leverage and strong profitability of its European , Australian and New Zealand operations. Moody's has affirmed the 'B1' corporate family rating of Lippo Karawaci Tbk PT and 'B1' senior unsecured rating of the bonds issued by Theta Capital Pte Ltd, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Lippo Karawaci. The outlook has been revised to negative from stable. The rating action reflects Lippo Karawaci's increased execution and financing risk underpinned by its shift in strategy to concurrently sell and construct Meikarata instead of pre-selling the project prior to construction. This might lead to a mismatch in cash flows and funding requirements for construction. The risk is further exacerbated by Moody's expectation that Lippo Karawaci's gross margins will decline to 35% from 52% for the 12 months ended 30 September 2017. Moody's has affirmed Beijing Energy Investment Holding Co Ltd's (BEH) 'A3' issuer rating and the

'Baa1' senior unsecured rating on BEH's EUR bond. It has revised the outlook to stable from negative. The rating action reflects BEH's stabilising credit profile, driven by a steadying business profile and manageable credit metrics within Moody's expectation of its current rating level. It also reflects BEH's dominant role in the local power and district heating sectors that are commercially viable but are linked to public policy goals, the 100% ownership by the Beijing municipal government and the track record of support from the Beijing municipal government. S&P has assigned a 'BBB' long-term corporate credit rating to Renesas Electronics Corp. The outlook is stable. The rating action reflects Renesas Electronics's strong position in the automotive and industrial semiconductors market. S&P has affirmed Mitsui & Co Ltd's (Mitsui) 'A' rating. The outlook has been revised to stable from negative. The rating action reflects the decrease in likelihood that Mitsui's profitability and capital adequacy will deteriorate given its efforts to curb fresh investments and implement measures to restore financial soundness. Fitch has assigned HongKong Xiangyu Investment Co Ltd's (Xiangyu Group) USD500mn notes a final rating of 'BBB'. The outlook is stable. The rating action reflects Xiangyu Group's ratings being credit linked to, but not equalised with, China's Xiamen municipality. The linkage is reflected in Xiangyu's 100% state ownership, strong municipal control and oversight, and solid support record coupled with a likely socio-political and financial impact for the government if Xiangyu Group defaults.
