

Highlights

Global	Relatively calmer spirits continue to be observed into the second day of the week. Safe haven assets including gold, UST and JPY continue to retreat while the Korean Credit Default Swap (CDS) premium fell from its 18-month high. Risk appetite may continue to stay supported into today, given the relatively rosier economic prints coming out from US and Germany; note that US Retail Sales and Empire Manufacturing prints surprised market expectations on the upside. Elsewhere, Germany's 2Q working day-adjusted GDP print surprised stronger at 2.1% vs market estimate of 1.9% (1Q GDP was also revised higher from 1.7% to 2.0%). Overall, Asian bourses may continue to firm today amid the receding geopolitical uncertainties. Today's economic data calendar comprises of US' Housing Starts, MBA Mortgage Applications and Building Permits, EC &amp; IT 2Q GDP print, Bank of Thailand MPC meeting.
AU	RBA minutes continue to highlight the need for "careful monitoring" over its housing market and household debt. The central bank however commented that there are further improvements in its labour market given more full-time jobs being created amid higher labour participation and average hours worked.
CN	Broad money supply M2 growth decelerated further to record low of 9.2% in July. However, as mentioned by PBoC last week in its latest 2Q monetary policy report, PBoC is unlikely to react to the falling M2 growth due to its less predictability and declining correlation with the real economy. Nevertheless, aggregate social financing remained strong, increasing by CNY1.22 trillion on the back of return of financing function of bond market. Net corporate bond issuance increased by CNY284 billion after two straight months' decline as concerns about the volatility of bond market started to dissipate after PBoC shows policy flexibility.
ID	President Jokowi is expected to outline his budget plans today through a parliamentary address. Focus will be on the tension between his infrastructure spending plans and a widening budget deficit. With the budget deficit projected to widen to 2.9% of GDP, there may be limited fiscal means to drive growth without an increase in borrowing. Meanwhile, July exports data printed 41.12% yoy growth, exceeding estimates of 35.72%.
TH	The Bank of Thailand is slated to meet today to discuss its monetary policy and economic developments. On this, we expect BOT to keep its benchmark rate unchanged at 1.50%.
Commodities	Gold continues to retreat as market-watchers increasingly focus back on global growth and away from geopolitical issues. In fact, gold's fall marked its second day of decline, and its largest one-day percentage loss in almost six weeks. Crude oil prices were flat overnight, as investors digested API's data which indicated a further drop in US crude oil stocks, though the US Department of Energy also highlighted its intention to sell 14 million barrels of crude oil in late August.

Major Market

- US markets: As North Korean tensions fade, the market re-focused on economic fundamentals. Stronger-than-expected retail sales data bodes well for growth in the upcoming quarters, and re-ignited expectations for the 3rd rate hike this year. On the equities front, major indices were little changed, with the S&P 500 and Nasdaq Composite closing lower, but the Dow higher. Losses in telecommunications and consumer discretionary stocks were offset by gains in utilities and consumer staples. VIX continued to shade lower, down 2.35% to 12.04. Meanwhile, US Treasuries were pressured by the retail sales data-led selloff. 2y and 10y benchmark yields were firmer by 3-5 bps, closing at 1.35% and 2.27% respectively. Watch for the release of July FOMC minutes later today.
- Singapore: STI fell 0.42% at closing yesterday. The losses were led by Golden Agri-Resources (-2.7%), though gains in SPH (+2.2%), CapitaLand Mall Trust (+0.96%) and Singapore Airlines (+0.6%) limited overall gains. For today, risk appetite should continue to stay buoyant given the relatively rosier economic prints from the US and EU markets overnight.
- S. Korea: Credit default swap premium fell from its 18-month high to 66.3 basis points as of yesterday, suggesting that some geopolitical concerns have been taken off the table. Still, it remains starkly above its YTD average of 52.2.

Bond Market Updates

- Market Commentary: The SGD swap curve traded upwards yesterday, with swap rates trading 3-5bps higher across all tenors. In the broader dollar space, the spread on JACI IG Corporates fell 1bps to 188bps. Similarly, the yield on JACI HY Corp fell 1 bps to 7.01%. 10y UST yields rose 5bps to 2.28%, after the results of the Empire State Manufacturing survey and retail sales data came in higher-than-expected.
- New Issues: Wing Tai Properties (Finance) Ltd has priced a SGD160mn Perp NC3 (guaranteed by Wing Tai Properties Ltd) at 4.35% (reset at the end of year 10 and every 10 years thereafter), tightening from initial guidance of 4.7%. CIFI Holdings (Group) Co Ltd has priced a USD300mn Perp NC5 at 5.375%, tightening from initial guidance of 6% area. The expected issue ratings are 'NR/B1/NR'.
- Rating Changes: Moody's has assigned Stockland Group (Stockland) an issuer rating of 'A3'. The outlook is stable. The rating action reflects Stockland's standing as one of Australia's largest real estate investment trusts, its stable and predictable level of operating income from its diversified portfolio, and its moderate financial profile. Moody's has assigned CSL Limited an issuer rating of 'A3'. The outlook is stable. The rating action reflects CSL's position as a market leader in the industry, as well as Moody's expectation that CSL will report strong EBITDA growth over the next five years.
