Market sentiment remains in check ahead of a number of key events this

Global	Market sentiment remains in check ahead of a number of key events this week, including general elections in the Netherlands today and the release of FOMC decision at 2am Singapore time overnight. For the Dutch elections, two latest polls show that firebrand Geert Wilders' prospects of coming on top have dwindled further. These polls suggest that his PVV (Freedom) party would gain just 16 out of 150 seats in the parliament, compared to expectation of 20 seats suggested by polls done the day before. Meanwhile, for the FOMC decision, while a rate hike is expected by the market, much attention will zoom in on signals on future rate moves, via dot plots and Yellen's press conference.
sn	Equities saw broad-based declines ahead of Fed's rate hike decision tomorrow. 10 of 11 sectors in the S&P 500 index slipped, with consumer discretionary stocks only marginally positive. Energy stocks were the main drag as oil continued its recent downtrend. Overall, the S&P 500 lost 0.34%, while the Dow and Nasdaq slipped 0.21% and 0.32% respectively. VIX jumped 8.4% to close at 12.3.
НЭ	Economic recovery remained steady in the first two months of 2017. Industrial production grew by 6.3% yoy in the first two months while fixed asset investment accelerated to 8.9% yoy. However retails sales slowed to 9.5%. The latest growth data painted a fairly rosy picture in China's manufacturing sectors, in line with recent strong PMI data. Industrial production in manufacturing sectors grew by 6.9% yoy in the first two months, offsetting the decline in mining outputs. In addition, the upgrade of the value chain in manufacturing seems to be underway. For example, production of both general purpose equipment machinery and special purpose equipment machinery increased by 10.6% and 11.5% yoy respectively, its highest print since July 2014. Meanwhile, fixed asset investment in manufacturing sector also accelerated to 4.3% yoy.
QI	Finance Minister Sri Mulyani Indrawati said that the government received IDR114tn in penalty payments from the tax amnesty program. She added that overall participation in the program is still low compared with the number of people who should take part.
ЧW	Foreigners have reportedly sold MYR21.71bn worth of government bonds in the last three months. This reduced the share of their holding in debt papers from a peak of 34.7% last year to 28.7% as of end of Feb, as reported by the Star. Bank Negara reportedly said that the selldown was largely due to the unwinding of the NDF positions by non-resident financial institution investors.
Commodities	Market watchers basically shrugged off OPEC's upgrade in its global oil demand expectation (+50 thousand bpd to 1.38 million bpd growth in 2017), while non-OPEC supply is expected to fall further (-0.66 million bpd) as oil prices continue to fall overnight. Instead, investors turned spooked over the reality of a rise in global crude stocks and a surprise production increase from Saudi Arabia despite ongoing curbs. Empirically, Riyadh reportedly increased oil production to 10.011 million barrels per day in February, resulting in both WTI and Brent taking another notch lower. Meanwhile, gold remained flat as market-watchers eye closely on the upcoming Dutch elections and FOMC meeting.

Major Markets

- US: US Treasury yield curve flattened as 10-year benchmark yields fell 3 bps to close at 2.60%, while 2-year yields stand at 1.38%, up 1 bp. Fast money appears to be positioned in expectation of a hawkish message from the Fed tomorrow.
- Singapore: STI closed lower yesterday albeit in a flattish fashion, snapping its two consecutive trading days of gain. The index fell 0.12% to 3,143.40, dragged by Golden Agri-Resources (-2.6%) and Keppel Corp (-2.2%), while gains in Hutchison Port Holdings (+2.5%) and Jardine C&C (+1.6%) cushioned the fall. STI is expected to range-bound until more clarity is seen from the upcoming Dutch Elections and FOMC rate decision.
- China: The stronger than expected fixed asset investment was mainly attributed to three factors which include strong infrastructure investments, improving private sentiments as well as a steady property market. Infrastructure investments grew by 27.3% yoy, highest in record. Private investment also re-accelerated to 6.7% yoy, highest since March 2016. Investments in the property market accelerated to 8.9% yoy from 6.9% in 2016 despite the cooling measures. The stronger investment was supported by property sales, which increased by 25.1% yoy. It seems there has been a spill over effect from higher tier cities to lower tier cities.
- Retail sales unexpectedly slowed to 9.5% in the first two months, driven by the slowdown of car sales, which fell by 1%, probably due to the expiration of tax subsidy.
- Macau: Housing transactions dropped by 43.6% mom to 709 units in January while new residential mortgage loans approved tumbled by 16% mom to MOP3.5 billion. In the same month, average housing prices fell by 14% mom to MOP89,727/sqm. However, these three indicators all showed positive growth on yearly basis. Therefore, the monthly decreases may be attributed to seasonality while the housing market has been stabilizing on the back of economic recovery. Moving forward, housing market's outlook is rather mixed. Moderate economic recovery, stagnant wage growth, global uncertainties and higher interest rates may tame housing sentiment. With home supply increasing, should the Fed raise rates at a faster pace and prompt Macau's banking system to lift the Prime Rate, we expect average housing prices to drop around 5% yoy in 2017. Demand for residential mortgage loans may also reduce as a result. On the flip side, the government will reclaim several undeveloped plots of lands which were granted to builders after the leases expire. This may slow down the increase in housing supply. A slower-than-expected rate hike pace by the Fed may also limit the downside of the housing market. If this is the case, a 3% to 5% annual growth in housing prices is forecasted.

Bond Market Updates

- Market Commentary: The SGD swap curve bear steepened decisively yesterday, with the short end trading higher by 3bps and the long end trading higher by up to 7bps. In the broader dollar space, the spread on JACI IG corporates fell 2bps to 191bps while the yield on JACI HY corporates rose 2bps to 6.79%. 10y UST yields fell 3bps yesterday to 2.60%, as oil's slide (to its lowest since November) curbed inflation expectations, even as gains were capped after the February Producer Price Index rose more than forecast.
- New Issues: Azure Nova International Finance Ltd. priced a USD2bn 3-tranche deal (guaranteed by Bank of Communications Financial Leasing Ltd.); with the USD700mn 3-year piece at CT3+140bps, tightening from initial guidance of CT3+145bps; the USD1.05bn 5-year piece at CT5+150bps, tightening from initial guidance of CT5+155bps; the USD250mn 10-year piece at CT10+172.5bps, tightening at initial guidance of CT10+175bps. The expected issue ratings are 'NR/A2/A'. Guorui Properties Ltd. priced a USD300mn 3-year bond at 7%, tightening from initial guidance of 7.375%.

The expected issue ratings are 'B-/NR/B'. Trafigura Group Pte. Ltd. priced a USD600mn NC5 Perp at 6.875%, tightening from initial guidance of 7.25%. Indonesia scheduled investor roadshow from 16 March for potential USD-denominated sukuk issuance. Shandong Yuhuang Chemical Co. scheduled investor roadshow from 15 March for potential USD bond issuance. The expected issue ratings are 'B+/NR/B'.

• Rating Changes: S&P assigned Shandong Yuhuang Chemical Co. Ltd. (Yuhuang) a 'B+' corporate credit rating and long-term rating to the senior unsecured notes issued by Yuhuang's wholly-owned subsidiary Rock International Investment Inc. and guaranteed by Yuhuang. The rating action reflects the company's small scale, limited geographic and product diversification, average profitability, and high financial leverage. S&P also commented that they expect the company's debt leverage to stay high over the next two years because of steep capital expenditure for its U.S. gas-to-methanol project. S&P upgraded Styron Asia Ltd.'s foreign and local issuer credit ratings, to 'BB-' from 'B+'. The rating outlook is stable.
