

Highlights

Global	Bid for safe haven assets fell after political pressure in Europe and North Asia eased though uncertainty about trade talk remains. 10-year US Treasury yields returned to 2.95% while US dollar retreated. The North Korea Summit has finally been confirmed and Trump and Kim will meet in Singapore on 12 June. Although Korea Peninsula is moving towards denuclearization, the risk for Iran to restart its nuclear program rose. Iran's supreme leader Khamenei said on Monday that he had ordered its atom agency to prepare for increase of uranium enrichment capacity should the nuclear deal fail. The return of geopolitical risk in the middle east may heighten in the coming weeks. For today, market will closely watch out for RBA meeting later, which is expected to be on hold.
US	Factory orders fell by 0.8% mom in April. The weaker than expected factory orders was mainly due to declining demand for transportation equipment and machinery. However, given still solid manufacturing index, the decline is likely to temporary.
SI	Manufacturing PMI dipped further by 0.2 points to print 52.7 in May, though the electronics sector PMI rose by a marginal 0.1 point to 52.3 in the same month. Note that the latest manufacturing PMI reading has printed above its 50.0 mark for the 21st consecutive month, though marking a slowdown for the second month.
KR	Korea's current account surplus narrows to 1.77bn, the least since 2012. BOK cites "record deficit in primary income accounts given dividend payouts to overseas investors" to be the key reason for the fall, and the dividend payouts were bigger than usual due to "improved profitability and increase in foreigners' equity investment".
ID	Headline inflation declined to 3.23% yoy in May (April 2018: 3.41% yoy) as there was generally a broad slowdown in price increases for most of the categories. In particular, prices for the food category experienced a much slower increase at 4.47% yoy (April 2018: 5.15% yoy). Meanwhile, according to Bloomberg, BI Governor Perry Warjiyo has told lawmakers on Monday that stability in the exchange rate is the short term focus of the central bank.
CMD	Crude oil prices fell further overnight even as Bloomberg data showed that OPEC pumped 31.9 million barrels a day in May, unchanged from April's levels. Importantly, the steady production levels seen in May is an important print especially given expectedly lower oil production out from Nigeria Venezuela and Iran in the previous month, and the lack of such trend suggests that initial concerns over lower oil production are misplaced. Saudi Arabian oil production also rose 110 thousand barrels per day as well to just over 10 million bpd, suggesting that higher oil production in the world's third largest oil producer is a phenomenon to monitor going forward.

Major Market

- US: Equities closed up overnight as market continued to digest the positive labour market news that reinforced the country's economic resilience and moderate wage growth albeit factory orders declining 0.8% mom in April. Moreover, the ebbing of Italian elections and geopolitical concerns as well as the confirmation of the highly anticipated Trump-Kim summit likely supported risk taking. The Dow advanced 0.72% while the S&P 500 and Nasdaq composite added 0.45% and 0.69%, respectively. VIX continued to trend lower, settling at 12.74 on Monday as compared with Friday's 13.46. On the US Treasuries front, the 2y benchmark yield added 4bps to end firmer at 2.516%. Similarly, the 10y yield rose 4bps to close up at 2.942%.
- Singapore: The STI advanced 1.17% to close higher at 3,467.48. Overnight Wall Street gains as well as mixed opening cues from Nikkei and Kospi may pave the way for Asian bourses to trade cautiously today. Gains registered by Hutchison Port Holdings Trust (+3.70%) and Venture Corp Ltd (+2.46%) supported the index's ascent. Meanwhile, Yangzijiang Shipbuilding Holdings Ltd (-1.94%) and ComfortDelGro Corp Ltd (-1.20%) declined.

Bond Market Updates

- Market Commentary: The SGD swap curve steepened yesterday, with swap rates trading around 1-2bps higher across most tenors. The Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD IG Bond Index average OAS was unchanged at 138bps while the Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD HY Bond Index average OAS widened 4bps to 464bps. 10Y UST yields rose 4bps to 2.94% as investors pared safe-haven holdings of lower-risk government debt due to fading fears about political turmoil in Italy and Spain.
- New issues: DBS Group Holdings Ltd has priced USD750mn 10.5NC5.5 Fxd-to-Fxd Tier 2 subordinated notes at CT10+173bps, tightening from its initial price guidance of CT10+200bps area. Hyundai Capital America has priced a USD1.3bn deal across three-tranches with the USD350mn 3-year bond priced at CT3+115bps, tightening from its initial price guidance of CT3+130bps area; the USD650mn 3-year bond priced at 3mL+94bps, in line with its initial price guidance and the USD300mn 5-year bond priced at CT5+135bps, tightening from its initial price guidance of CT5+145bps area.
