

Highlights

Global	A volatile session overnight in Wall Street saw both the Dow and the S&P500 losing their year-to-date gains, while the Nasdaq lost 4.4% as tech stocks were battered amid growing growth and earnings concerns. With the ensuing flight to safety, the 10-year UST bond yield dipped to 3.1% and the USD firmed. The Fed's Beige Book highlighted that businesses remained optimistic about "modest to moderate" US growth but "several districts indicated that firms faced rising materials and shipping costs, uncertainties over the trade environment, and/or difficulties finding qualified workers". Meanwhile, BoC hiked 25bps as expected to 1.75% and the central bank remained hawkish, indicating that the "policy interest rate will need to rise to a neutral stance to achieve the inflation target" with the neutral rate estimated at 2.5-3.5%. Elsewhere, European manufacturing PMIs were also mostly slower than anticipated at 52.7 (-1.4 points) for the Eurozone and 52.7 (-2.3 points) for Germany. In Asia, South Korea reported 3Q GDP growth which disappointed at 2.0% yoy (0.6% qoq sa), marking the slowest growth since 3Q09 and a moderation from 2Q's 2.8% yoy (0.6% qoq sa). Asian bourses are likely to see a weak session amid dented market sentiments today. Key to watch will be the ECB policy meeting where policy settings are likely to remain unchanged and Draghi is unlikely to deviate from its existing plans for ending asset purchases at year-end and hiking interest rates through summer of 2019. The economic data calendar comprises US' durable goods orders, pending home sales and initial jobless claims, and German IFO data. Fed vice-chair Bullard is speaking on the economic outlook.
US	New homes sales fell 5.5% in Sep, the fourth straight monthly slide which suggests that the drag was not fully hurricane related. Meanwhile, multiple suspected bombs were sent to Democrats including Obama and Hillary Clinton, adding to the cloudy outlook ahead of the upcoming US mid-term elections, especially with President Trump's ongoing attack on Fed chair Powell ("he was supposed to be a low-interest-rate guy...it turned out he's not"), and the ongoing Saudi Arabia tensions.
CH	Onshore USD/CNY trading volume surged to US$66.2 billion, even higher than that seen after the PBOC reformed the RMB fixing mechanism in 2015. This signals that the central bank might have offered USD liquidity to the market. Besides, the SAFE warned about illegal capital outflows under offshore SPV. Though China has started to play down the key psychological level of 7 for USD/CNY, the regulators may continue to use administrative measures to help slow down rather than reverse the downtrend of the RMB. At this juncture, we still think the USDCNY will stay below 7 for 2018.
MY	Anwar Ibrahim during his visit to China has said with regards to the US that "a country that promoted free trade for hundreds of years has started a trade war". He also describes China's growth as "legendary" and also said that they "would be a great partner in development". Meanwhile, former Prime Minister Najib Tun Razak may be recalled to face the Public Accounts Committee (PAC) over the RM19.4bn input tax credit under the goods and services tax (GST), according to the PAC chairman Ronald Kiandee.

Major Markets

- US: Wall Street closed lower on Wednesday, with the S&P500 (-3.09%) and DJIA (-2.41%) losing their year-to-date gains. The Nasdaq composite plunged 4.43%, its largest daily decline since August 2011.
- AT&T equity plummeted 8.06% on 3Q earnings that missed expectations and below-consensus adjusted EPS, with satellite TV subscriptions tumbling.
- Texas Instruments (-8.22%) reported slowing demand across a large number of its markets amid a lower guidance revised for 4Q18.
- Boeing stock gained 1.31% on solid 3Q earnings and revenue that exceeded consensus and the aviation firm raised its 2018 outlook for EPS and revenue.

- Singapore: The STI ended flat (0.02%) at 3032.08 yesterday, but may take a leg down today amid the overnight Wall Street slump. STI support is tipped at 3000. Expect the flight to quality to see SGS bonds better bid today, especially after the belly of the UST curve rallying by around 7bps overnight.

- Indonesia: According to the Jakarta Post, Finance Minister Sri Mulyani has acknowledged that the debt had increased significantly under President Joko Widodo. The news portal also reported that she said that spending though for infrastructure increased to Rp904.6trillion between 2015 – 2017 from Rp456trillion between 2012 – 2014 whilst spending on education increased to Rp1.17quadrillion between 2015 - 2017 from Rp983trillion between 2012 – 2014.

- Philippines: According to Bloomberg, Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) Assistant Governor Francis Dakila said at a senate hearing that inflation could have already peaked in 3Q 2018 whilst he also noted that lower rice and oil prices could have helped eased inflation this month.

Bond Market Updates

- Market Commentary: The SGD swap curve flattened yesterday, with swap rates for the shorter tenors trading 1-2bps lower while the longer tenors traded 2-4bps lower (with the exception of the 15-year and 30-year swap rates trading 1bps lower). The Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD IG Bond Index average OAS widened 1bps to 145bps while the Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD HY Bond Index average OAS widened 10bps to 523bps. Overall, 10Y UST yields fell 7bps to close at its three-week lows of 3.10% due to weakness in stocks as well as the ongoing political uncertainty ahead of the US congressional elections.

- New Issues: SPIC Luxemburg Latin America Renewable Energy Investment Company Sarl has priced a USD800mn deal across two tranches (guaranteed by SPIC Luxemburg Energy Investment Company Sarl), with the USD300mn 3-year bond priced at CT3+135bps, tightening from its initial price guidance of CT3+165bps area and the USD500mn 5-year bond at CT5+170bps, tightening from its initial price guidance of CT5+190bps area. Hainan Airlines (Hong Kong) Co Ltd has priced a USD100mn 2NP1 bond (guaranteed by Hainan Airlines Holding Co Ltd) at 13.17%. Sinopec Century Bright Capital Investment Ltd has priced a CNH1bn 3-year bond (guaranteed by China Petrochemical Corp) at 4.5%, tightening from its initial price guidance of 4.7%. Bluestar Finance Holdings Ltd has scheduled for investor meetings from 25 Oct for its potential USD Perp bond issuance (guaranteed by China National Bluestar (Group) Co Ltd).
