Global	Wall Street slipped at the prospect of US president Trump hinting that he wants to move ahead with the US$200b of tariffs on Chinese imports next week (after the public comment period ends on 6 September), as well as withdraw from the WTO if "they don't shape up". News that the Turkish deputy central bank governor is set to resign and Argentinian policymakers' emergency rate hike to 60% (after asking for early IMF aid) also weighed on EM sentiments, with the MSCI EM Index sinking 1.2% (largest correction in more than two weeks). S&P500 tested the key 2,900 while crude oil prices broke through the US$70 per barrel handle, and the 10-year UST bond yield dipped 2bps to 2.86%. It looks like we're primed for a choppy start for September next week amid these headwinds as the FOMC is likely to proceed with its third rate hike this year. Asian markets may trade with a cautious tone today given the trade uncertainties and ahead of the weekend, especially with the long holiday weekend in the US. Key to focus for today includes China's official PMI data. Other economic data releases include S'pore's bank loans growth, UK' Nationwide house prices, German retail sales, Thai trade data for July, US' Chicago PMI and final University of Michigan sentiments index.
NS	President Trump hinted that "I think we're close to a deal" with Canada for NAFTA, whereas for China's currency manipulation, he opined that "it is a formulaand we are looking very strongly at the formula".
EU	Chief Brexit negotiator Barnier from EU warned that "I don't think we can speak about a success when speaking about Brexit because Brexit is a negative negotiation" and "our responsibility is to be prepared for any and all the options. That includes a no-deal scenario."
KR	Bank of Korea (BoK) left its 7-day repo rate pat at 1.50% as expected as a cooling labour market leading up to the meeting had dampened speculation of a rate hike.
СН	The State Council announced new measures to further support the opening of domestic bond market to foreign investors. Interest income from domestic bond market will be exempted from corporate income tax and value added tax for three years. RMB weakened again after the trade war topic re- emerged following Trump's comments he wants to move ahead with a plan to impose tariffs on US$200 billion in Chinese imports.
SG	July bank loans growth likely expanded around 5-6% yoy, similar to the June's 5.9% pace.
D	Australian prime minister Scott Morrison will be officially meeting Indonesia president Joko Widodo today as the two sides look to close out negotiations on a free trade agreement that could cover trade in a range of sectors including education, agricultural and manufacturing. According to Australian trade minister Simon Birmingham, a deal between the two sides could be signed by Christmas.

Major Markets

- US: The S&P500 fell 0.44% and ended its 4-day streak of gains, as news that Trump was ready to impose the $200bn tariffs on Chinese imports right after the end of the public comment period of September 6 outweighed the positive developments on the US-Canada trade talk front.
- Apple stock rose 0.92% as Berkshire Hathaway CEO Warren Buffet said that he has been purchasing more shares, and calling the iPhone "enormously underpriced". An announcement was also released that Apple will hold an event on 12 September, where it is expected to unveil the new iPhone.
- Abercombie Fitch Co. saw its shares slid 17.16% as it missed sales estimates, dragged by its Hollister subsidiary's prematurely sold-out summer clothing in Europe.
- Electronic Arts (EA) slumped 9.79% after it announced that the released of the muchhyped "Battlefield V" video game will be postponed to 20 November, causing it to reduce its net bookings guidance b7y $350mn.
- Meanwhile, the VIX Index rose to 13.53 on Thursday, as compared to 12.25 on Wednesday.
- Singapore: The STI traded down 0.56% to close at 3225.72 yesterday, and may extend its slide amid the sea of red ink and market caution surrounding EM risk markets. Given Wall Street's overnight declines and a softer morning open by Kospi as well, the STI may test the 3200 handle to its recent 21 August low of 3196. With risk-off sentiments prevailing, UST bond yields ended lower by up to 3bps led by the belly of the curve, and SGS bonds should similarly be better bid today
- Malaysia: Petronas has announced that it will boost dividends to the government to RM24bn, an increase of RM5bn from the RM19bn that the firm had initially planned to contribute. This comes after profits doubled in the second quarter for the state energy company.
- Hong Kong: Retail sales growth decelerated to 7.8% yoy in July from 12% yoy in June. The slowdown could be attributed to four unfavorable factors, including the faded lowbase effect, a stronger HKD on USD strength, China's slowdown as well as trade war concerns. By retail outlets, the sales of foods, alcohol and tobacco grew at the slowest pace since this January by 3% yoy. As trade fears weighed down stock market and in turn reduced wealth effect, consumer sentiments weakened. China's slowdown and US-China trade war have clouded HK's economic outlook as well as the salary prospect. This also curbs household spending.
- On the other hand, sales growth of clothing, footwear and allied products and that of jewellery, watches and other luxury goods decelerated to 3.6% yoy and 16.8% yoy in July from 6.2% yoy and 27.8% yoy in June respectively. As HKD followed USD strength to appreciate against major currencies while Asia's outlook was clouded by trade concerns, tourism activities and tourist spending might have been slowing down. All in all, we expect the four unfavorable factors will continue to soften the growth of retail sales in the coming months.

Bond Market Updates

- Market Commentary: The SGD swap curve was range-bound yesterday, with swap rates trading 0-2bps higher across most tenors. The Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD IG Bond Index average OAS widened 1bps to 139bps while the Bloomberg Barclays Asia USD HY Bond Index average OAS widened 2bps to 479bps. Overall, 10Y UST yields fell 2bps to close at 2.86% on the back of safe-haven demand after Argentina's central bank raised its interest rates to 60% (from 45%) which led to renewed fears over emerging markets, as well as reports that President Donald Trump planned to impose tariffs on USD200bn worth of Chinese goods next week.
- New Issues: Vigorous Champion International Ltd has priced a USD500mn 5-year bond (guaranteed by China Ping An Insurance Overseas Holdings Ltd) at CT5+167.5bps, tightening from its initial price guidance of CT5+190bps area. Chalco Hong Kong Investment Co Ltd has priced a USD400mn 3-year bond (guaranteed by Chalco HongKong Limited, Keepwell provider: Aluminium Corporation of China Limited) at CT3+235bps, tightening from its initial price guidance of CT3+275bps area.
