

Frequently Asked Questions on MasterCard's Account-Based Ticketing Pilot

1. What is the Account-Based Ticketing (ABT) System?

The Account-Based Ticketing (ABT) System enables commuters to use credit or debit cards with contactless function for fare payments. During the pilot, only Singapore-issued Mastercard contactless cards will be accepted. There will be no need for upfront top-ups as you will be using your credit card or debit card for fare payments. Similar to any Mastercard contactless purchases, your bus and train transactions will be processed and charged to your credit or debit card. Commuters will be able to track and view their journey and fare history via the TransitLink ABT Portal or TransitLink Mobile Services app.

2. What are the benefits of the ABT System?

The ABT System will eliminate the need for a separate transit card and the hassle of having to top up travel value when your balance runs low.

In addition, the ABT System will allow commuters to track their journey and fare history via the TransitLink ABT Portal or TransitLink Mobile Services app.
