The Gilbert, 2nd Floor, 40 Finsbury Square, London,
EC2A 1PX, United Kingdom
(Registered number BR000981)

Oversea-Chinese Banking Corporation Limited (“OCBC Bank”), including its London branch established in the United Kingdom, is committed to protecting your privacy and securing your personal data in accordance with applicable laws. This data privacy notice (the “Data Privacy Notice”) explains the types of personal data we collect, how we use that data, who we share it with, and how we protect that data. It also provides you with information with respect to your rights.

The information set out in this Data Privacy Notice will continue to apply even after the termination of your agreement with us for the provision of our services or products.

Please read the following carefully to understand our views and practices with respect to personal data.

Wherever we use ‘you’ we mean you or any person connected to you namely any authorised person, anyone who deals with us for you (e.g., trustees or executors, attorneys, external asset managers) and other related people (including but not limited to authorised signatories, partners, members, directors, beneficial owners of companies, beneficiaries of trusts).

Wherever we use ‘we’ or ‘our’, this means OCBC Bank. Unless otherwise stated below, the data controller for the purposes of this Data Privacy Notice will be OCBC Bank.

By submitting your personal data to us, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Data Privacy Notice.

1. What data is covered by this Data Privacy Notice?

This Data Privacy Notice applies to personal data processed by OCBC Bank. Personal data means data that (either in isolation or in combination with other data) enables you to be identified directly or indirectly.

2. What personal data do we collect from you and how?

“Personal data” means any information relating to you as a data subject. As part of your business relationship with OCBC Bank we will collect your personal data directly from you and/or from public sources or authorised third parties (e.g., public authorities, trustees or executors, corporate and media sources) before and during your onboarding process, in the course of our business relationship, and after the termination of our agreement if needed. (ix) Direct marketing.	▪ Legitimate interests of OCBC Bank ▪ When we have your permission to do so

To the extent that we process Sensitive Personal Data relating to you, we will rely on the following legal bases:

- The processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of a legal claim;
- The processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interests;
- The processing relates to personal data made public by you; and/or
- You have given us explicit consent.

4. Do we use your personal data for direct marketing?

We may send you marketing messages by email and/or contact you by telephone to provide you with information about our products and services. You have the right at any time to opt out of direct marketing at any time by contacting us using the contact details set out in the below paragraph 11 “How can you contact us?”.

5. With which third parties do we share your personal data?

Your personal data is intended for OCBC Bank but may be shared with third parties in certain circumstances:

OCBC Group companies: In order to optimise the quality and efficiency of its services for its clients, the London branch of OCBC Bank established in the United Kingdom relies on the resources, skills and operational support of its head office in Singapore, as well as subsidiaries, branches, representative offices, and other entities belonging to the OCBC Bank group (collectively, the “OCBC Group”).

We may share your personal data with the other OCBC Group entities in order to administer our services and products, provide you with customer support, process your instructions, understand your preferences, send you information about products and services that may be of interest to you and conduct the other activities described in this Data Privacy Notice.

Additionally, we may share your personal data with the other OCBC Group entities where we have a legitimate interest for doing so e.g., to manage risk, to verify your identity, or to assess your suitability for products and services.

Our service providers: We use other companies, agents, or contractors to perform services on our behalf or to assist us with the provision of our services and products to you. We may share personal data with the following categories of service provider:

- infrastructure and IT service providers, including for email archiving;
- marketing, advertising, and communications agencies;
- credit reference agencies; and
- external auditors and advisers.

In the course of providing such services, these service providers may have access to your personal data. However, it is our policy to limit the categories of individuals who have access to personal data based on a ‘need-to-know’ principle to the extent necessary to perform their tasks. Furthermore, we will only provide our service providers with personal data which is necessary for them to perform their services, and we obligate them not to use your information for any other purpose. Our service providers are legally obliged to have appropriate measures in place to keep your personal data secure in accordance with applicable data protection and privacy laws.

Third parties permitted by law: In certain circumstances, we may be required to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with a legal or regulatory obligation (i.e., we may be required to disclose personal data to the police, regulators, government agencies or to judicial or administrative authorities).

We may also disclose your personal data to such third parties where disclosure is both legally permissible and necessary to protect or defend our rights, matters of national security, law enforcement, to enforce our contracts or protect your rights or those of the public.

Third parties connected with business transfers: We may transfer your personal data to third parties in connection with a reorganisation, restructuring, merger, acquisition, or transfer of assets, provided that the receiving party agrees to treat your personal data in a manner consistent with this Privacy Notice.

We will not sell in any circumstances your personal data to third parties.

Please note our website or communications with you may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of our partners or affiliates. If you follow a link to any of these websites, please note that these websites have their own privacy policies and that we have no control over how they may use your personal data. You should check the privacy policies of third-party websites before you submit any personal data to them.

6. Do we transfer personal data outside the European Economic Area and the UK?

Your personal data might be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the European Economic Area (the “EEA”) and the UK including to locations which may not have the same level of protection for personal data as in the EEA and UK. When doing so, we comply with the UK GDPR, making sure appropriate safeguards are in place.

For the purposes mentioned in the above Paragraph 5 “With which third parties do we share your personal data?”, personal data may be transferred to recipients located in other countries and territories, such as Singapore and Malaysia. When transferring personal data to other countries and territories, OCBC Bank, acting as data controller, has put in place appropriate safeguards to protect your personal data in accordance with this Data Privacy Notice and applicable data protection laws. Such safeguards include, where relevant, contractual commitments such as the International Data Transfer Addendum to the EU standard contractual clauses (or equivalent measures).

7. What are your rights?

Under UK data protection law, you have the following rights:

- a. Access. You have the right to request a copy of the personal data we are processing about you. For your own privacy and security, at our discretion we may require you to prove your identity before providing the requested information.
- b. Rectification. You have the right to have incomplete or inaccurate personal data that we process about you rectified.
- c. Erasure. You have the right to request that we delete personal data that we process about you, except we are not obliged to do so if we need to retain such data in order to comply with a legal obligation or to establish, exercise or defend legal claims.
- d. Restriction. You have the right to restrict our processing of your personal data where you believe such data to be inaccurate; our processing is unlawful; you have objected to our processing of your personal data and the request is pending our verification whether our legitimate grounds override your rights as a data subject; or that we no longer need to process such data for a particular purpose unless we are not able to delete the data due to a legal or other obligation or because you do not wish for us to delete it.
- e. Portability. You have the right to obtain personal data we hold about you, in a structured, electronic format, and to transmit such data to another data controller, where this is (a) personal data which you have provided to us; (b) if we are processing that data on the basis of your consent or to perform a contract with you; and (c) the personal data processing is carried out by automated means.
- f. Objection. Where the legal justification for our processing of your personal data is our legitimate interest, you have the right to object to such processing on grounds relating to your particular situation. We will abide by your request unless we have compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests and rights, or if we need to continue to process the data for the establishment, exercise, or defence of a legal claim.
- g. Withdrawing Consent. If you have consented to our processing of your personal data, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time, free of charge. This includes cases where you wish to opt out from marketing messages that you receive from us.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us as stated in paragraph 11.

If you have any concerns about our use of your personal data, you can make a complaint to us using the contact details in paragraph 11. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office. The Information Commissioner's Office can be contacted as follows:

Telephone: +44 0303 123 1113
Website: <https://ico.org.uk/>
Address: Information Commissioner's Office
Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF

8. How do we protect your personal data?

We have implemented technical and organisational security measures to safeguard the personal data in our custody and control. Such measures include, for example, limiting access to personal data only to employees and authorised service providers who need to know such information for the purposes described in this Data Privacy Notice as per our 'control access policy'; adopting security protocols on networks and systems; using email security settings when sending and/or receiving highly confidential emails; applying physical access controls such as marking confidential documents clearly and prominently, storing confidential documents in locked file cabinets; restricting access to confidential documents on a need-to-know basis; disposal of confidential documents that are no longer needed, through shredding or similar means; using a mode of delivery or transmission of personal data that affords the appropriate level of security (e.g., registered post instead of normal post where appropriate); and other administrative, technical and physical safeguards.

While we endeavour to protect our systems, sites, operations and information against unauthorised access, use, modification, and disclosure, due to the inherent nature of the Internet as an open global communications vehicle and other risk factors, we cannot guarantee that any information, during transmission or while stored on our systems, will be absolutely safe from intrusion by others, such as hackers.

9. How long do we keep your personal data?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary for the purpose for which that data was collected and to the extent permitted by applicable laws. When we no longer need to use your personal data, we will remove it from our systems and records and/or take steps to anonymise it so that you can no longer be identified from it.

10. How do we deal with children's privacy?

We will never knowingly collect personal data from individuals under the age of 18 years without first obtaining verifiable parental consent. If you are under the age of 18 you should not provide information to us. If we become aware that a person under the age of 18 years has provided personal data to us without verifiable parental consent, we will remove such personal data from our files.

11. How can you contact us?
