Terms and Conditions

- a. Unless we agree otherwise, once we have received your payment instruction for processing you must not cancel, withdraw or amend it. We have the right to reject your payment instruction without giving you any reason. We may choose another bank or agency (the 'agent bank') to pay the funds (including converting the funds if necessary) to the recipient's bank.
- b. We will carry out your payment instruction and our agent bank will act on it if it is within the rules and procedures of the place where, or through which, it will be acted upon. We (and our agent bank) may refuse to carry out your payment instruction if we believe this could break any law, rule or other regulatory requirement that applies.
- c. If you ask us to stop, cancel or amend your payment instruction, we will not refuse unreasonably. We may agree to your request only if you meet certain conditions. If we receive the funds that you ask us to get back from the agent bank, we will use our exchange rate that applies at that time to convert the returned funds before returning them into your account as prepayment. You agree that we and the agent bank may also charge fees and expenses for this service and we can take this from the loan servicing account.
- d. The agent bank and the recipient's bank may charge commission, fees or other charges. These fees will be deducted from the loan servicing account. Please prepare at least S$100 in the loan servicing account.
- e. If we convert any payment charges into a foreign currency, the charges that apply will be based on our exchange rate at the time of conversion of the payment charges.
- f. We may give information about you (and your accounts or the recipient's account) to our branches, subsidiaries, associated companies and agents and any other person or organisation we have selected, for confidential use, including for use in connection with carrying out your payment instruction if we believe this is appropriate. These people and organisations may then reveal the information as necessary under any law or regulation that applies. You agree to give us permission to do this (and would not withdraw your permission).
- g. We will not be liable for any loss, damage or expense you suffer unless the loss, damage or expense is directly caused by our gross negligence or by us deliberately breaking any of the terms of this agreement. We will not be responsible for any error or delay of any agent bank we use to make the payment, or if they break any of the terms of this agreement.
