TERMS AND CONDITIONS GOVERNING THE BLUE CHIP INVESTMENT PLAN

Customer's SRS account (as applicable) is at least equal to the aggregate of the gross investment amount plus the applicable fees for all Securities selected by the Customer. If available funds for stock investment in the Customer's SRS account (as applicable) are insufficient, the Customer's Purchase Instruction will not be executed. OCBC Bank will only process the Customer's Purchase Instruction if the available funds in the Customer's SRS account (as applicable) are sufficient.

Once the Customer's Purchase Instruction is successfully executed, the aggregate of the gross investment amount and the applicable fee (if any) for all Securities selected by the Customer will be debited from the Customer's SRS account within 3 Business Days after the Purchase Date. If the debit from the Customer's SRS account for the gross investment amount of any Security is unsuccessful for any reason whatsoever, OCBC bank will attempt to deduct the said sum from the Customer's deposit account (opened with OCBC Bank) on the same day.

Should the debit from the Customer's deposit account be unsuccessful or insufficient to cover the cost of the Securities purchased, OCBC Bank shall contact the Customer and inform him of the debit failure or shortfall (as the case may be). Upon notification, the Customer will have to top up his deposit account (opened with OCBC Bank) with additional funds to pay OCBC Bank for costs incurred in connection with the purchase of the Securities by 3 p.m. on the same day. If the Customer fails to top up the deposit account with sufficient funds by the requested time, OCBC Bank shall be entitled (but not obliged) to perform a force-sale on the Securities to make up the shortfall.

8. PURCHASE INSTRUCTION – ORDER EXECUTION

8.1 Aggregation of Purchase Instructions

OCBC Bank will aggregate the Purchase Instructions of all Customers and instruct OSPL to purchase the relevant Securities on an aggregated basis on the Purchase Date in accordance with these Terms and Conditions. Once the Purchase Instructions have been executed by OSPL, OCBC shall notify the Customers that the relevant Securities have been purchased soon after.

8.2 Maximum Execution Price

The execution price for the purchase of each Security will be calculated based on a formula benchmarked against the LDP of such Security, such that the Average Purchase Price of any Security purchased under the BCIP will not at any time exceed the Maximum Execution Price.

8.3 Average Purchase Price

The computation of the Average Purchase Price for any Security shall be done by OCBC Bank on a best effort basis. The Average Purchase Price of any Security may differ from month to month. All Customers who purchase the same Security pursuant to the BCIP in the same calendar month will be charged the same Average Purchase Price for such Security.

8.4 Allocated Quantity of Shares/Units

On completion of the execution of the aggregated Purchase Instructions, the actual number of shares/units of each Security allocated to each Customer is computed by dividing Net Investment Amount by the Average Purchase Price, rounded down to the nearest whole number.

For Cash settlement, OCBC Bank will credit the unutilised portion of the Gross Investment Amount after excluding the fees (i.e. the residual monies which was not utilised to purchase Securities) back to the Customer's GIRO-linked account.

For SRS settlement, OCBC Bank will only debit an amount equivalent to the gross investment amount plus fees for the Securities actually purchased from the Customer's SRS account.

8.5 Full Execution of Purchase Instruction

settlement, OCBC Bank will credit the unutilised portion of the Gross Investment Amount (i.e. the residual monies which was not utilised to purchase Securities) back to the Customer's GIRO-linked account. For SRS settlement, OCBC Bank will only debit an amount equivalent to the gross investment amount plus fees for the Securities actually purchased from the Customer's SRS account.

For example, assume a Customer with a Net Investment Amount of S$500. If the Average Purchase Price was S$10/share, the total allocated quantity if execution was completed would be 50 shares. If there was a trading halt mid-Purchase Date which led to only 30 shares being purchased, 30 shares would be credited to the Customer, and S$200 credited back to Customer's GIRO-linked account. If customer had elected to settle the Purchase Instruction via SRS, S$300 would be debited from the Customer's SRS account for the shares/units purchased. Note the example above excludes fees applicable.

In the event of a Partial Execution, the fees payable by the Customer will be pro-rated accordingly, such that the Customer will only be required to pay fees for the Securities actually purchased.

8.7 No Execution of Purchase Instruction

A Customer's Purchase Instruction will not be executed at prices beyond Maximum Execution Price, or if conditions on the market render execution impossible, for example, in the case of a trading halt.

In the event of no execution, OCBC Bank will instruct OSPL to use reasonable endeavours to execute the aggregated Purchase Instructions for the specified Security by the next Business Day after the Purchase Date.

For example, if there was no execution on the 22nd day of the calendar month, an attempt will be made to execute the aggregated Purchase Instructions on the 23rd day of the calendar month. If no execution took place on the 23rd, the Purchase Instruction will be deemed to have expired for that particular calendar month. In such an event, for Customers who elect to pay for their Securities using "Cash" as a mode of settlement, a sum equal to aggregate of the Gross Investment Amount for all Securities selected by the Customer will be credited back to Customer's deposit account (opened with OCBC Bank). For Customers who elect to pay for their Securities using monies from their SRS funds as a mode of settlement, no deduction will be made.

All Customers who elect to sell a Security pursuant to the BCIP on the same Business Day will be credited the same Average Sale Price for such Security.

9.5 Short-Sale (SRS)

Subject to pre-execution checks on a Customer's holdings, Sale Instructions for which SRS is the mode of settlement will be executed. If a short-sale scenario occurs despite the pre-execution checks, OCBC Bank will make good the shortfall quantity of shares/units short-sold for delivery from the customer's BCIP holdings (for which Cash was the mode of settlement) where possible. If a deficit still exists, OCBC Bank shall have the right (but not the obligation) to perform a buy-in to cover the short-sold quantity of shares/units, and the Customer is liable for any losses and charges incurred.

Transactions on the Sale Date and those on the Business Day after will be treated as separate transactions with fees applied accordingly.

For example, if there was partial execution on a particular Sale Date, an attempt will be made to sell the remaining quantity unsold on the next Business Day after the Sale Date. The Sale Instruction relating to the remaining unsold Securities will be deemed expired if it still cannot be completed on the next Business Day after the Sale Date.
